Hi Everyone,

And welcome to this issue of our 'More than a Newsletter'; Just for Today.

Well it's January already, I hope you all had a very Happy Christmas a New Year now begins.

Good morning everyone, and Happy New Year!

A new year is like opening a fresh notebook—the pages are blank, waiting for us to fill them with our stories, our efforts, and our dreams. Each of you has the chance to write something remarkable this year.

Last year may have had its challenges, but it also gave us lessons. Mistakes are not failures they are stepping stones. Every time you try, you grow stronger, wiser, and more confident. Think of Thomas Edison, who once said: "I have not failed. I've just found 10,000 ways that won't work." That's the spirit of learning, every attempt brings you closer to success and your goal.

Setting Goals for the New Year

This year, I encourage you to:

- Dream big: Set goals that excite you, whether in studies, sports, or creativity.
- Stay curious: Ask questions, explore new ideas, and never stop learning.
- Be resilient: Don't give up when things get tough—remember, even the tallest trees grow from tiny seeds.
- Support each other: A kind word or helping hand can make someone's day brighter
- Trust: Always trust your guides no matter what
- Energy: Always trust the Energy.

Students can register with CNHC via Reiki Tradition School of Reiki

As Reiki is now evolving and becoming more known in mainstream medicine; people are discovering the possibilities and healing results around Reiki, especially within Hospitals, Hospices, Care Homes etc, within Statutory Settings alongside orthodox medicine, the more the standards are rising to work within these specialised Statutory Settings, then the standards 'Protecting the General Public' and protecting Public Health, are also evolving.

After our own research, Reiki Tradition School of Reiki, seem to be the only Accredited Reiki Training Provider specialising in Integrated Healthcare, equipped to work with our students to help them gain the necessary qualifications to work within these specialised settings.

We are seeing more and more so-called Accredited Reiki Training providers offering Accreditation, yet such providers, the Accreditation isn't worth the paper it's written on, everything we come across is fabricated.

I'm continually asked by our own Accreditors, what do I expect of Reiki for the future?, and what I would like to see of Reiki moving forward? I 'Stand up for Standards' and I support 'public health' and I would like to see Reiki governed and all practitioners registered on an Accredited Register which links to the Core Curriculum.

Social Prescribing (which we covered in Issue 2), GP referral system encourages practitioners to be Accredited.

The General Medical Council has now amended its referral guidelines to include Accredited Registers.

GPs like to refer to practitioners on the CNHC Register the main governing council. This Register is approved as an Accredited Register by the Professional Standards Authority for Health and Social Care.

Reiki Tradition School of Reiki, now encourage all our Accredited Students to Register with the CNHC.

This can be a very difficult and challenging experience done alone. However, at Reiki Tradition School of Reiki, we make the registration and membership process easy, our Accreditors are looking forward to registering you. The cost is under £150; for further information please contact me.
